ning. B. M. Grotkep, chairman of the exposition committee of the Real Estate exchange, which is holding the exchange, which is holding the show: Harry Bolton, managing director, and Guy Charlesworth, director of publicity, estimated the number of admissions during the evening at 2:600.

A mask ball will feature the exposition Tuesday night in keeping with the Halloween spirit aiready manifest, and which will reach its spex tonight. Many couples took advantage of the excellent orchestra music and the specially prepared dancing floor Monday night.

Miss Mondane Phillips, Miss Georgia Root and "Buddy" Myers are the vaudeville artists. They will perform every day of the exposition, giving the same programs in the afternoons as in the evenings. Music is furnished by the Six Syncopating Serenaders of Kansas City. Exhibits Delight Visitors.

Numerous exclamations of astonishment over the varied and elaborate exhibits were heard on the epening night. Not the least of the displays is the miniature 2-story house exhibited by Blair brothers, which is to be given away by the exchange Saturday might. The main drawing events will be held Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights, when several residence lots, as well as the model house, are to be drawn. Police Won't Interfere With Merrymakers Who Keep in Bounds of Reason

Halloween pranksters will not be interfered with by the polica so long as they do not carry the spirit of the occasion to extremes that endanger the welfare of persons and of property, according to an announcement Monday by Chief of Police Rees Moran.

"It is not the intention of the police to do anything that will kill the joy of the occasion." Chief Moran said. "but the public must be protected from danger and property must be protected against damage to the customary extent and through the usual means provided for such protection. Officers will be especially observant and will make arresss in each case where law violations are being perpetrated and the offenders will be prosecuted as they would be on any other occasion. The scaping of car tracks or such tampering with any contrivance is likely to cause accidents that may result in injury or death to other persons and will not be permitted."

"Innocent merry-making and the indulgence in the usual harmless pranks will not be interferred with by the officers and only the rowdy element will take advantage of the occasion to indulge in the wanton destruction of pronerty or in practices that are likely to jepardize public safety. Such offenders of the law will be dealt with as they would be at any other time."

Children find delight in the many tiny house models, as well as in complete bath rooms equipped with miniature fixtures specially manifactured for exposition purposes. An educational exhibit is that of the Gklahoma Natural Gas company, which, by the use of proper equippent, points out the faults and added expense of improperly constituted stoves and the need for areful inspection of plumbing to should leaks that cause avoidable additions to gas bills.

Many local realitors are represented in the exposition with photographs of residence property in their hands for sale, and local banking institutions maintain booths to explain modern methods of financing interest shown by Tulsans in its first exposition of this character, Grothop advised. "With such a splendid attendance the first hight, we are confident the exposition test will be taxed to capacity the remainder of the week. That is the history of similar shows that cover a period of six days.

"We feel we have something con-

INJUNCTIONS TEMPORARY

Judges Carpenter and Van Valkenburg Issue the Two Restraining Orders

WASHINGTON, Oct. 39.—Granting of temporary injunctions against application of the Capper-Tincher grain futures set by Chicago and Kansas City federal courts, will lead to another review of the bill by the United States supreme court, it was declared this afternoon by administration leaders.

ministration leaders.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30.—Federal Judge Carpenter, in district court today granted a stay order preventing enforcement of the grain futures act pending a hearing on the application for a permanent injunction filed by the Chicago board of trade. Hearing on the permanent injunction will be held November 3. This action was the first step in a movement to test the constitutionality of the law.

The bill of complaint charges unconstitutionality and "that the law seeks to regulate as interstate commerce, trade that is wholly intrastate; that it interferes with staterights to govern exchanges and that it seeks to deprive members of their property by admiliting representatives of co-operative bodies and permitting them to rebate commissions in violation of rules observed by other members."

Powers granted the secretaries of agriculture and commerce and the attorney-general in the act are at-

"It was not unexpected," he said.
"Efforts will probably be made in other cities for similar action. I do not think a permanent injunction will be granted."

"But the case will be carried to the United States supreme court re-sardless of the decision rendered November 8. Much effort will be made to prove the bill unconstitu-tional but I don't think it can be done," Capper added,

Women's Clubs Sends Letter AND 15 MISSING Warning Against Socialism

Mrs. Lyman N. Cary, Woman's Leader in North Dakota, Appeals to Oklahoma Club Women to Reject Devastating Program; Made Wreck of Her Adopted State

Special to The Werld.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 26.—An appeal from the leading thought of North Dakota womanhood to the women of Oklahoma is contained in a telegram which was received today by Mrs. J. C. Fearson, vice chairman of the republican clubs, from the state committee and former president of the Oklahoma Federation of Women's clubs, MR. Lyman N. Cary, president of the North Dakota federation.

The telegram appears to have been brought out by the effort of some local woman supporting Waiton to show that a number of club women over the state have espoused the Waiton candidacy. Mrs. Cary scome to have taken the campaign literature seriously for she sent the following telegram to Mrs. Pearson:

Mandan, N. D., Oct. 29, to Mrs. J. C. Pearson. Oklahoma City, Okla., "On no account allow the nonpartisan league to gain a foothold in Okliahoma. It has brought only disaster to North Dakota. The movement among women of the state against Walton had reached a point several days ago where it was considered necessary by those in charge of his women's bureau to prepare and send our a special campaign document in whichit was sought to show that a number of club women have indorsed and are supporting Walton.

As a result, instead of assisting in the Walton candidacy, hundreds of club women over the state have become active in the campaign against the mayor and are battling hard to prevent the reorganization league from capturing the state. The telegram from Mrs. Cary indicates that the women of the country are watching the outcome in Oklahoma this year.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 35 .-Angered by the rapid growth of the onstitutional democratic clubs in constitutional democratic clubs in Obtahoma and by the widespread success of the movement on the part of the democrats to refuse to support J. C. Waiton for governor, representatives of Walton are charged with having in mind some rather desperate tactics.

"Prince Freeling does not dare speak in Shawnee," said Bea Lafayette, former chaliman of the contral committee and scrive at present in the Walton campaign.

"If he goes over there he will be rotten-egged."

"Yes, I have heard that there is some such plan on foot," Freel-said when interrogated on the question. I have been warned that there has been a frame-up planned to assault and rotten-egg me. Of course I shall go shend with my plans to speak. Nothing could keep me out of my home town where my friends live, not even the threats of the agitators and socialists." Freeling is billed to speak at Shawnee Wednesday night.
